

BIG WHITE ALPINE TRAILS

RHONDA LAKE TRAIL

A great trail for those who want incredible views of Rhonda Lake, which is entirely hidden by snow in the winter. It's one of our more shaded walks, with our Englemann spruce and lodgepole pine forest lining the trail. It also has some great spots for stopping and setting up a picnic with a view.

Approx. Hiking Time: Allow 1hr downhill or 1.5hr uphill (one way)

Distance: 4.5km (one way) Level: Intermediate

Elevation Gain/Loss: 456m Slope: Max 42% Avg 12.1%

PEAK TRAIL

If you're on a mission to reach the highest peak, this is the hike for you! Follow this trail all the way to the rock cairn at the top and enjoy the views of the mountains, Christian Valley, and the Okanagan Valley.

Approx. Hiking Time: Allow 1hr return

Distance: 1km (loop) Elevation Gain/Loss: 166m Level: Intermediate Slope: Max 49.5%, Avg 16.6%

FALCON RIDGE

This trail meanders its way up the face of Big White and is perfect for those looking for a longer hike. The steady climb up takes you over some pretty streams where the wildflowers like to grow. See if you can spot the Indian paintbush, Pasque flower and Columbia lily, to name iust a few.

Approx. Hiking Time: Allow 2 hrs (one way) or

2.5 - 3 hrs if crossing to Peak Trail

Distance: 4km (one way) Level: Intermediate

Elevation Gain/Loss: 553m Slope: Max 40.6% Avg 14.4%

JAIMESON LOOP

Enjoying summer, but missing the snow? This short and steep trail might be the trail for you. You'll likely find the last bits of our winter snowfall, along with the challenge of some scramble sections and rocky terrain. But you'll be rewarded with extended views all the way out towards Vernon, including Mt Moore, Greystokes Provincial Park, Big White Ecological Park.

Approx. Hiking Time: Allow 30min (loop)

Distance: 0.75 (loop) Level: Hard

Elevation Gain/Loss: 100m Slope: Max 95.5% Avg 21.9%

ALPINE MEADOWS

See what the snow ghosts look like in the summer! Enjoy a leisurely hike through alpine meadows and sub alpine fir forest. Great spot for seeing Whiskey Jacks and Stellar Jays, along with chipmunks. This trail completes a great hiking loop from top of Bullet, to the Peak and back again.

Approx. Hiking Time: Allow 25min

Distance: 0.46km Level: Intermediate Elevation Gain/Loss: 18m Slope: Max 27.4% Avg 9.0%
